BAND NOTES

Bandmaster Beer, late of Calgary, has been welcomed as Bandmaster by the Peterboro (Ont.) Band. Bandmaster Beer has served in the Wood Green (Eng.) Band and others, and was warmly welcomed at a supper on Nov. 12th. Several of the Townsfolk and Local Officers had words of welcome. We have farewell Bandsman E. Dolman, who has left for Kingston with the Second Contingent. Our Songsters led the week-end meetings, Nov. 9th, 10th, and on Nov. 11th gave a song service entitled "Echoes of the Congress." The Songster Brigade is commanded by Bandsman A. E. Moynes—S. J. R.

Practice and hard work seems to be the motto of the Peterboro Young People Band, which, we hear, is making great headway, under Bandmaster T. Blunt. The young Bandmen now assist the junior meetings, greatly by their playing. They hold their own Sunday evening open-air, and regularly play at the Senior meeting on Thursday evening—S. J. R.

Winnipeg Citadel Band visited St. James on Monday, Nov. 9th, and gave a musical service in the Olive Baptist Church, which was well attended. Reeve Shelmaher was in the chair. The English, Scottish, and Irish melodies by the Band and the xylophone selections by Miss Robinson were well received, as also were the pianoforte and vocal solos by Brother James Irwin. Half the proceeds went to the Ashboia District Relief Fund. Sister Captain Peacock accompanied the Band.

In full force the Chatham (Ont.) Band turned out in order to do justice to the visit of the Chief Secretary, on Nov. 8th. Amongst other items, "The Sinner's Doom" was well rendered. Bandsman G. Cobble, late of Oshawa, has been welcomed into our midst, and has taken up E flat bombardier—G. C.

The week-end of Nov. 15th saw the Windsor (Ont.) Band overtake the International Boundary, at Pontiac, Mich., to give our comrades there a helping hand. Detroit Band, accompanied by Adjutant Conlin, visited our Corps for the Sunday afternoon and evening meetings, and did fine service. Much credit is due to Bandmaster Doherty for the efficiency and smartness which his Band exhibited. The Band rendered a number of pieces, amongst which was "Jerusalem, My Happy Home," which was given by special request. Adjutant Conlin's addresses at the afternoon and evening services were a source of great blessing—G. W.

On Thursday, Nov. 5th, the St. John's Young People arranged a Song Service, which was a great success. There was a good attendance, and a soul sought prayer at the close—A. E.

Remember negative is held, we hope by the Weyburn String Band. This is a new venture, and the comrades say it is of great assistance on Sunday nights. A String Band was organized in preference to a brass or silver, for the reason that the latter is rather too small for the volume of sound, which would be occasioned by either of these—F. G. W.

Despite the fact that there was a heavy downpour of rain, the Brantford Band visited Paris, Ont., on Sunday, Nov. 15th, and conducted the meetings. The rain fell in torrents, but we had well-attended meetings, and in the afternoon Mayor Patterson presided, and spoke highly on the work of The Army, and complimented the Brantford comrades on their playing.

The War Cry Bandmaster and Drink. A great assistance to the present War Minister at Britain is a believer in sober army. Among measures that he has to promote sobriety is of the sending of men and spirits to solfront. He has also strong disapproval of displaying war news for the purpose of keeping the British Army, Mr. Frances appealed to the troops to observe a pledge for the day of the war. The day evening was a varied program, consisting of letters to the service to my country, mental letters to the wishes of the "in-Chief" at this time, and a promise of the war, to take the chair in private address. LETTERS ABOUT INTERESTING PEOPLE a man of great magnanimity. He lost a leg by a bomb thrown at him by a political opponent, who was transported for the crime. But as soon as the excitement died away the Count succeeded in obtaining the man's release and providing him a pension. Now this great man is devoting the labours of the remainder of his life to making men for China as well as Japan, for at the University are numbers of Chinese.

LORD KITCHENER.

Army by presiding at important public gatherings, but he also visits the various sections of the Corps at their own meetings. Recently he addressed the Bandsmen, and his advice on spiritual lines was most helpful to all. He also spoke at a recent Young People's Company Meeting on their decision Sunday, and personally encouraged the children to come out there and then, and decide for Christ. Mr. McQuaker is an active church worker and superintendent in a local Sunday School. As a prominent business man of Owen Sound, his honourable dealings have gained him the respect of the entire community.

young. To-day finds him one of the most responsible, capable, and successful Officers in India. During the whole of that period he has only left India for two or three visits of short duration to England. He has had his full share of sickness and suffering, and has only recently recovered from a serious operation.

The Colonel is the personification of activity, heroism, and everywhere, his hand is on everything and he keeps many irons in the fire. He is not fastidious either with regard to his food or his living. In meetings and in public he is very particular about his dress, but on all ordinary occasions he is to be seen bareheaded and simply wearing a shirt and dhoti. In Bombay he is well known and held in considerable esteem, and is the only Missionary representative on the Permanent Famine Committee, and is looked to by Indian leaders for advice and assistance when any difficult social problem is to be dealt with.

A Mayor's Tribute. Mayor McCorbie, of Chatham, Ont., in presiding at the Chief Secretary's meeting in that city, paid a splendid tribute to The Salvation Army. He said:—

"The Army is doing a great work and the results are plainly to be seen. There have been the times of trial and tribulation, there have been the discouragements which only those who continue the righteousness of their cause, and in the Master Workman of the universe could face and overcome. This handsome edifice is a monument to the men and women who have laboured so faithfully in the work, but still greater monuments are the lives of men and women who have been reclaimed from lives of sin and vice through the sincere labour of the workers in The Salvation Army. This city has benefited, and while there may be many who are not yet convinced, the appreciation of the general public, still I feel that Chathamites do appreciate the good work you are doing."

THE OSHAWA SONGSTER BRIGADE.

We regret that the following came too late to accompany the picture of the Songsters published last week.

Since this picture was taken we have had a few farewells and a few welcomes. Sisters Graves and Nichols and Brother Hinkelman have farewelled, and Sisters A. N. Bryant and R. Bailey and Brother R. Ward have been welcomed.

Brother Hinkelman is by nationality a Hollander, and when war broke out his country called him, and being a good soldier and willing to obey, he went. He is now somewhere in Holland, training the army in case of need. We are praying for him that God may keep him safe until he can come back and help us again.

Although the Brigade is only a year and a half old, it has steadily made progress. Most of this is due to the former Songster Leader, Brother Calvert, who was now in Peterboro. Brother T. Gould is the present Leader. We sing out of the latest Musicals, and on a recent Sunday gave a good interpretation of the Canadian Delegates' Song—"O Canada." Not only have we progressed, but we intend, by God's grace to go on to be the greatest means of winning souls possible.

A Mayoral Friend. Mayor McQuaker, of Owen Sound, is a warm friend of The Salvation Army, and a most outspoken admirer of its methods and work. In a recent letter to Adjutant R. Trickey, the Corps Officer, he said:—

"Dear Adjutant, I desire to say to you that, as Mayor of this town, I do appreciate the splendid work being done by The Salvation Army. On all hands, Mayor McQuaker, Mayor Trickey, the Corps Officer, he said:—

Why Daniel's Prayer Was Answered (By Mrs. Blanche Johnston.) One of my correspondents requests that I will tell through the Praying League Column, why Daniel's prayer was answered. I will try and comply with this wish, though space will permit it to be but briefly and only suggestive. It will be remembered that Daniel was one of many Jewish lads

The Praying League carried away into captivity in Babylon by his king, Nebuchadnezzar. The King of Judah, Jehoiakim, also was taken to Babylon, and the vessels of gold out of the Temple. Among the Jewish princes, four are specially mentioned. That they were of pious parentage is indicated by the meaning of the names: Hananiah—God is my Judge; Shadrach—Jehovah is gracious; Meshach—This is as God; Azariah—Jehovah is a Helper. After coming to Babylon their names were changed, according to the heathen custom, and named after the gods of Babylon. "Favoured of Bel or Belshazzar" Babylonian worship. Hananiah became Shadrach—Decree of the Moon God. Meshach became Abed-neg—Servant of the god. The story of the three young men is familiar to all Bible-reading people. I am now that Darius was the king who placed them in the furnace. Prime Minister of Babylon. And though it was excellent spirit was the subject of envy on the part of the courtiers, who probably had a poor opinion of them. The Commissioner In The West

It will be seen by the telegraphed summaries of the Commissioner's welcome campaign, up to Monday night, that God has set His seal upon the meetings in a very blessed manner, and that our new Leader has received a most encouraging reception at the hands of his troops in the West. This is what was expected, and we can promise our new Leader the same in whatever part of the Territory he may travel. His long years of successful service and his recognized abilities have won for him a deservedly high place amongst Salvation Army leaders, and the Canadian forces have enthusiastically received the coming of him. It is a privilege for the Commissioner to be in the West. The General informed this country that he had appointed Commissioner Richards to this command.

At the Territorial Headquarters arrangements are being made, as will be seen by the notices elsewhere, to give Commissioner and Mrs. Richards a reception that shall be in accordance with the importance of the position they occupy, and the esteem in which they are held.

It will be observed by the reports that the Commissioner has made a most favourable impression; that his public gifts were exercised with great success, and, as a result, at Vancouver, sixty-five seekers after Salvation and Sanctification were recorded. Hallelujah!

Let every reader pray for our new Commissioner. Upon him will rest enormous responsibilities, and we are sure that his first request of the Canadian forces would be for their prayers. Before him are spread vast opportunities. Canada, as a nation, is developing at a tremendous rate, upon the head of the Canadian wing of The Salvation Army devolves, in a great measure, the opportunity and responsibility of keeping The Salvation Army abreast of these things. In the name of Christ, he calls for our prayer and service. Commissioner and Mrs. Richards may feel confident they have them.

UNPRECEDENTED CROWDS

COMMISSIONER "SWALLOWED WHOLESALE"

SIXTY-FIVE SEEKERS AT VANCOUVER.

THE MAKURA docked at Vancouver wharf on Friday morning during a torrential downpour, which made anything like a public reception to Commissioner and Mrs. Richards an impossibility.

The Chief Secretary and Mrs. Gasdin, Brigadier and Mrs. Green, and others met the Commissioner and Mrs. Richards on board and conveyed to them the greetings of the Canadian Command.

In a chat with the Chief Secretary the Commissioner told him that the voyage had, on the whole,

A splendid Holiness meeting was conducted in the Citadel on Sunday morning, when the afternoon and evening services were held in the spacious Imperial Theatre, which was filled on both occasions.

In the afternoon meeting, Major Baxter and C. F. Tiddall, M.P.P. for Vancouver, spoke in glowing terms of The Army's work, and the Commissioner's oratory swayed the crowds at will. The great audiences laughed and cried by turns, and marked conviction was manifested.

Mrs. Richards spoke beautifully at each meeting. The crowds were unprecedented. Brigadier Green states that with respect to the skillful handling of the meetings, too much cannot be said. There were sixty-five seekers for the week-end's campaign.

The Commissioner was delighted with the demonstration of The Salvation Army on the Pacific Coast.

With respect to the meeting at Calgary on Monday evening, Major Hay says:—

"Calgary enthusiastically greeted Commissioner and Mrs. Richards. The Citadel was packed, and Mayor Simiot, who presided, was very felicitous in his welcome to The Army's new Leader. As the Divisional Commander, it fell upon myself to read an address expressive of the welcome the Officers and Soldiers of the Alberta Division extended to our new Leaders. The Hon. W. H. Cushing moved a vote of thanks to the chairman and eulogized the work of The Army. Bandmaster Creighton seconded the same.

been enjoyable, and free from unpleasant incidents. The health of himself and Mrs. Richards was quite satisfactory, and that he felt in capital form to take up this important command. He was very grateful to God and The General for appointing him to such a field of useful work. The farewell from New Zealand was a demonstration of affection and appreciation of work done during their two years' of command that he will never forget.

Brigadier Green, the Divisional Commander, informs us that the Commissioner was most enthusiastically received by the comrades and friends of Vancouver—"swallowed wholesale" was the Brigadier's phrase—and his utterances have created an extremely good impression. Thousands lined the principal streets on Saturday evening to get a glimpse of Canada's new Leaders, as the great procession swept by, and the Citadel was packed for the meeting, which was of a most impressive description, and the audiences in this, as in the succeeding meetings, were powerfully wrought upon by the words of the Commissioner.

C. E. Tiddall, M.P.P.

The Commissioner's marvellous powers of delivery held and delighted the vast audience for an hour. Everyone who heard him declared that Commissioner Richards is well qualified to be Canada's Leader. Faith runs high for the future.

NOTES AND REFLECTIONS

By The General

I WANT to utter a word of warning. Many precious things are being destroyed in this hateful war. Already being irretrievably ruined. It is not very easy to foresee as yet how wide-spread and far-reaching that destruction will be. To begin with, what a loss there is in treasure, in money, in wealth of every kind. Nobody knows how much the war is costing the nations. Probably the cost never will be known. And yet, alas, money is so sadly needed for all that belongs to the helping and blessing of the people! What loss there is in the matter of time! How dreadful for millions of men in the prime of life to be spending days and weeks and months in the one sole business of destruction when every hour might have been spent in serving and blessing their fellows.

What ruin of genius and waste of energy and other human powers we witness—energy and genius and powers which could have been of such incalculable worth to mankind if only they had been spent in the true service of the world—in beautifying it, in teaching it, in lifting it up instead of trampling it down. What destruction is going on in the cutting short of unworldly capacities in those who perish—in the musicians, the painters, the sculptors, the authors, the explorers, the teachers of mankind, whose gifts are lost before they have been discovered. What ruin and loss to the world in the destruction of more than a million of the people, all tend to increase this danger. And the Father of Hatred is ever ready to promote and foster anything that will help the evil.

Now, I say, we must refuse to sacrifice these gracious things. We cannot, we must not, give them up! We must not hide them or bury them. We must not be ashamed of them. In the Name of the great God of Love, we must refuse the awful demands which are being made by the god of war, to yield to the rage and the hate and the lust of revenge which are only too awfully manifold around us. We must, by the help of God, keep our tender sympathy with suffering, for it is the sympathy of Christ. We must cherish and encourage in our own hearts pity for the wrong-doers because it is the pity of Christ. We must let our compassion flow out towards, and our prayers ascend for, those who oppose and injure us, because that is of the very spirit and of the very command of Jesus Christ. And, should all we must do on loving our enemies, because to love is of God, and without love to love them it is impossible to know Him, or to please Him, or to be His.

Remember the unchangeable law which Jesus laid down for us—"As ye would that men should do to you, do ye also to them likewise." For it is the law of Christ.

Now, all this is dreadful—is, perhaps, so dreadful as to be, thank God, beyond our present powers of comprehension! We cannot take it all in. Heart and mind alike are numbered in the presence of such stupendous calamities. For myself, I can only say that as these days of anxiety and bloodshed drag on, sometimes as if my heart would break. And yet, what I know, I am only too well aware that I do not know half! I can only cry out that soon, very soon, the great God will surely visit us in His mercy as well as in His wrath.

And yet, over it all, there hangs a still more appalling apprehension, the fear of another danger which clings to me night and day. The spirit of war, at any rate of this war, seems to demand not only that the terrible sacrifices I have just named should be offered on its bloody altars, but that even more precious and gracious things than these should be demanded of us. I mean that it will do its utmost to kill our sympathy with suffering. It will try, no matter what nation we may be of, to destroy our pity for the wrong-doer, in what seems to us to be his blindness and wickedness. It will try to close up the fountains of our compassion for those who injure us, and to silence our prayers to God for those who despoil us or our people. The spirit of war, I say, will strive even to put to death that most Christ-like thing in our whole lives—our love for the enemies.

I am very anxious about this. If the war involves such a calamity, that will be the worst of all for the Kingdom of God. And, alas! too much around tends to favour the growth of this most evil fruit of what is going on. The newspaper stories of cruelty and deception in every country, and which are seldom quite true, and the repetition of incidents which belong to the most horrible side of all war, whether true or false, and I fear also very much of the everyday talk of multitudes of the people, all tend to increase this danger. And the Father of Hatred is ever ready to promote and foster anything that will help the evil.

Now, I say, we must refuse to sacrifice these gracious things. We cannot, we must not, give them up! We must not hide them or bury them. We must not be ashamed of them. In the Name of the great God of Love, we must refuse the awful demands which are being made by the god of war, to yield to the rage and the hate and the lust of revenge which are only too awfully manifold around us. We must, by the help of God, keep our tender sympathy with suffering, for it is the sympathy of Christ. We must cherish and encourage in our own hearts pity for the wrong-doers because it is the pity of Christ. We must let our compassion flow out towards, and our prayers ascend for, those who oppose and injure us, because that is of the very spirit and of the very command of Jesus Christ. And, should all we must do on loving our enemies, because to love is of God, and without love to love them it is impossible to know Him, or to please Him, or to be His.

Remember the unchangeable law which Jesus laid down for us—"As ye would that men should do to you, do ye also to them likewise." For it is the law of Christ.

Massey Hall Meeting

COMMR. & MRS. RICHARDS TO RECEIVE A DEMONSTRATION OF TORONTO'S WARMTH OF WELCOME.

Premier and Mayor to Speak

MUSICAL COMBINATIONS TO RENDER MUSICAL GREETINGS.

The welcome meeting to our new Leaders, Commissioner and Mrs. Richards, promises to be one of great human interest, Salvation Army significance, and spiritual power.

It will be very representative in character. To begin with, there will be cordial messages of greeting from His Royal Highness the Duke of Connaught, the Governor-General; from the Rt. Hon. Sir Robert Borden, Prime Minister of the Dominion, and from the Hon. Mr. Wilfrid Laurier. These will represent Canada in its federal aspects. There will be speeches by the Hon. N. H. Hensley, Premier of Ontario, representing the Province; His Worship, Mayor Hocken, representing the City of Toronto, and by Warden Gilchrist, of the Central Prison, representing work of social service rendered to the community by The Army. The various churches will be represented.

The wide Army will be represented in a message from The General, and the Territory at large will voice its feelings in messages from the Divisional Headquarters. It will be a truly representative gathering, as will be met, seeing that the Chief Officer of such a useful and important organization as The Salvation Army is to be welcomed.

Commissioner and Mrs. Richards will also be welcomed by the numerous bands of The Massed Bands of the city will be present. The voluminous harmony that the 300 Toronto Bandmen can render alone will be a pleasure to hear as a pleasant memory. We understand that the opening song will be that well-known, mighty Salvation Army battle hymn, "Rule, Jehovah." The Massed Bands will lead.

But there will be contrasts in music, for the Staff Songsters will make their appearance. They are down, we observe, for a vocal selection, and Major A. J. Hensley, their leader, will be in voice production, while the Tailoring Department is labouring diligently at their uniforms, so we shall no doubt have a combination that will gladden the eye and please the ear, and stir the soul.

Then there is a woman's chorus of one hundred and fifty voices. They will sing a stirring welcome hymn to that truly noble tune: "O Canada." A children's chorus will also extend a warm welcome. The service will not be lacking in the spectacular, for a highly picturesque procession representing the nationalities, the localities, the various ranks and grades of The Army, will march through the hall, and sing a greeting.

Then, in addition to all the foregoing, will be the warm address of our new Leaders. God bless them! Let all Salvationists and friends rally to the Massey Hall on Thursday, and give to the Commissioner and Mrs. Richards the most rousing reception they have ever had.

Mrs. Ensign Keith and the children from our Davisville Ave. Home visited this Corps on Nov. 12th, and gave a good programme. Staff Captain Dobney took the chair. Very much credit is due to Mrs. Ensign Keith, Sister Eva Keith, and Lieutenant Dando for the trouble they have taken in training the children. The audience was delighted with the programme.

PUBLIC RECEPTION TO COMMISSIONER and MRS. RICHARD MASSEY HALL, Thursday, December 3rd, at 8 p.m.

HIS WORSHIP, MAYOR HOCKEN, WILL PRESIDE

Programme of Music by The Canadian Staff Songsters

A REPRESENTATIVE GROUP OF THE CANADIAN TERRITORY.

MASSED BANDS WILL PLAY FROM SEVEN-THIRTY TO EIGHT O'CLOCK.

ARMY SONGS.

FROM EVERY STAIN MADE CLEAN.

Tunes.—For ever with the Lord, 68;
Song Book, 430.

From every stain made clean,
From every sin set free;
O blessed Lord, this is the gift
That Thou hast promised me.
And pressing through the past
Of failure, fault, and fear,
Before Thy Cross my soul I cast,
And dare to leave it there.

From Thee I would not hide
My sin, because of fear
What men may think, I hate my pride,
And as I am appear—
Just as I am, O Lord,
Not what I'm thought to be;
Just as I am, a struggling soul,
For life and liberty.

HAVE YOU ROOM FOR JESUS?

Tunes.—Room for Jesus, 153; Never can tell, 146.

Have you any room for Jesus—
He who bore your load of sin?
As He knocks and asks admission,
Sinner, won't you let Him in?

Chorus.

Room for Jesus, King of Glory!
Hasten now, His word obey!
Singing your heart's door widely open!

Bid Him enter while you may.

Room for pleasure, room for business;

But for Christ the Crucified—
Not a place that He can enter.
In the heart for which He died!

Have you any time for Jesus,
As in grace He calls again?
Oh, "To-day" is "time accepted,"
To-morrow you may call in vain.

Room and time now give to Jesus;
Soon will pass God's day of grace;
Soon your heart be cold and silent,
And your Saviour's pleading cease.

HARK, HARK, MY SOUL!

Hark, hark, my soul! what warlike songs are swelling.
Through all the land and on from door to door;
How grand the truths those burning strains are telling Of that great war till sin shall be no more.

Chorus.

Salvation Army, Army of God; Onward to conquer the world with Fire and Blood.

Onward we go, the world shall hear our singing,
Come, guilty souls, for Jesus bids
you come;
And through the dark its echoes,
loudly ringing, Shall lead the wretched, lost, and wandering home.

Far, far away, like thunder grandly
pealing,
We'll send the call for mercy full and free;
And burdened souls by thousands humbly kneeling,
Shall bend, dear Lord, their rebel necks to Thee.

Conquerors at last, though the fight
be long and dreary, Bright day shall dawn and sin's
dark night be past;
Our battles end in saving sinners
weary,
And Satan's kingdom down shall fall at last.

best temperance society in the world." Finances were good.

Lieut.-Colonel Hargrave visited us on Oct. 20th, and gave a good address on the Young People's Work. There was a good and appreciative audience. Captain Erick led the meetings on Sunday, Oct.
25th, and at the Young People's morning meeting a little girl surrendered.

METLAKAHTLA, B. C.

We have a new Army Hall at this place, which, although not complet-ly finished, is fit for occupation. For many years there was no Hall, but last year, trusting in God for help, we started to build. We have not quite finished the inside work, but expect it will be done during the winter.—M. A.

A WELCOME

Envoy Hancock at (Toronto)

Envoy Hancock present on soul-saving among Indians of Northern Ont.
Sunday, Nov. 14th. The so bad on Sunday that was at a standard, the good attendance among souls sought. Holiness noon the Envoy again
night a soul sought.
Envoy's lecture on and after conversion on Monday evening
esting, and the singing of Brother Snell and his sons, was a great success.
